

Rehabilitation of a former palace

(Lyon, France)

Lighting design of a building in Lyon, situated opposite the Brotteaux station. Former grand palace, the Lugdunum is now an office building with great standing. The lighting reveals the originality of the building: classical friezes painted or sculpted, colorful balconies... This project is part of the lighting of the Brotteaux district.

contracting authority
Sogelym Dixence
architecture
Pierre Lombard
lighting design
les éclairieurs

completion 2012
photos by
Flux Lighting