

Former industrial wasteland transformed into a brand new site

(Lille, France)

A gigantic building, the new BTWIN site houses the bicycle production plant, a design office and indoor and outdoor practice areas in direct contact with the customers of the Decathlon brand. The project consists of enhancing the rehabilitation of the architects both through the architectural lighting of the interior and exterior building and through the management of the surroundings. A very HQE lighting project with high energy savings (nearly 450 LED spotlights) and a specific lighting furniture design.

contracting authority

groupe oxylane

architect

patriarche

lighting designer

les éclaireurs

photos

Mohsen Ozlati & Lucas Goy

budget

48 000 000 € e VAT

surface area

shon 98 000 sq.m

ext. 15 ha

completion

2010