

Hôtel des Invalides

(Paris, France)

We are working alongside Cairn office on the renovation and securing of SGDSN's accesses and exteriors and on the pathways for people with disabilities to ensure night-time access. The lighting project for SGDSN courtyard is part of an overall lighting strategy for the Hôtel National des Invalides site. In order to obtain lighting that complies with current accessibility standards, we sought simple lighting systems that are adapted to the different configurations and that are developed on the scale of the site. They are respectful of its majestic architecture. Because the challenge, apart from night-time accessibility, is to respect the architectural logic at work and therefore to understand it.
