

The ultimate element of the Prada Foundation

(Milano, Italy)

The 60 metres high white concrete building reveals itself in the urban horizon of Milan while offering an unprecedented view over nine levels, six of which are exhibition spaces. The other three levels house a restaurant and visitor areas. A skybar dominates the structure. The exterior facades are characterised by alternating concrete and glass surfaces, thus multiplying the points of view. The irregular geometry of the Torre embodies the architectural vision of the entire Foundation. Photo Bas Princen 2018 © Fondazione Prada
